New Seven-Member Council Sworn In

New Epoch in City History Opened with Bigger Council And First Municipal Court

A new epoch in municipal history was ushered in here New Year's Day, Tuesday, when Robert L. Brubaker was sworn in as municipal court judge, and a new seven-man city council was sworn in and organized.

William Clarke, one of the two hold-over members of council, was chosen president.

Common Pleas Court Judge H. M. Rankin administered the oath of office to Judge Brubaker, who won his office as an unopposed candidate in the November General Election.

JUDGE BRUBAKER and Judge Rankin stood in the municipal court room, with most of the councilmen and a few others witnessing the brief ceremony. Some delay was occasioned while a change in the oath, as submitted by City Manager W. W. Hill, was being made.

Judge Brubaker succeeds Richard R. Willis, who was police court justice the past two years and who leaves an enviable record of performance.

First court under the new system was to be held Wednesday morning by Judge Brubaker.

When the new council met at 10:30 A. M. to organize, all signed the oath of office.

W. W. HILL as solicitor, explained that it was necessary to elect a chairman or president, and he presided while a president was being chosen.

William Clarke nominated Roy Baughn, and Baughn nominated Clarke for the position. Floyd Tracy nominated Robert Sanderson. Baughn asked to be excused, stating that Clarke was here all of the time and that he could not be.

Hill held that inasmuch as there was no second to the nominations of Baughn and Sanderson, that the vote would be on Clarke, and in the roll call all voted for Clarke except Tracy, who cast a negative vote.

CLARKE IMMEDIATELY took the chair, and minutes of the last previous meeting were read by the clerk, City Auditor Miss Marie Melvin.

City Manager Hill stated that January 9 would be the next regular meeting of council, and he explained that the sessions were held on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Hill also explained that it would be the duty of the council to read the minutes of the last meeting of the previous council.

New Municipal Court Marked by Dignity

First municipal court was held here Wednesday morning by Judge Robert L. Brubaker, who took over his new duties with all the dignity of a court and conducted the session like a veteran.

Clerk Donald Flanders formally opened court by announcing that "the municipal court of Washington C. H. with Judge Robert L. Brubaker presiding, is now in session."

Court was held in the newly enlarged council room, which will be used regularly for court purposes as well as for council sessions.

SPECTATORS and a half dozen persons facing charges, were required to rise during the opening, and Clerk Flanders announced that no smoking would be allowed in the court room while court is in session.

Judge Brubaker's first case was 'Operation Cocktail' Works Out Again.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2 —(INS)—If you want to see men decked out in plastic clothing in colors to delight technician enthusiasts just stick around until the year 2000.

That is the forecast of Dr. Roger Adams, retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The noted scientist took a look into the future and saw men consigning the collar, tie, tuxedo and most current uncomfortable formal gear to the ash can—or its 21st century equivalent.

By the year 2,000, men will wear lighter but just as protective clothing and it will come in rainbow colors. Men 50 years from now should look more or less as gay as women do now.

New POW Plan Is Offered to Reds by Allies

Commie Rejection, However, Expected; 'It Stinks,' They Say

MUNSAN, Jan. 2 —(AP)—Allied truce negotiators have proposed releasing all prisoners of war and displaced persons in Korea — with the guarantee no one would be sent home against his will.

But the Reds found the Allied proposal politically unpalatable.

The plan starts out on a man-for-man basis and winds up as an all-for-all exchange, said Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie, spokesman for the United Nations command.

The Communists took one look at the proposal and then said in effect, "it stinks," reported Rear Adm. R. E. Libbey, Allied negotiator.

Libbey expressed hope North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, Red negotiator, would change his mind after he studies the complex plan and understands it.

The proposal is intended to provide a compromise between the UN man-for-man exchange of prisoners proposal and the Reds all-for-all demand, and at the same time provide for repatriation of all civilians who want to go home.

The negotiators on the prisoner question met again at 9 p. m. Wednesday, EST. So ill a second subcommittee on supervising a Korean truce which hung up again on whether the Reds may rebuild their air fields during an armistice.

A UN COMMAND communique said the key to its new "proposal is the principle of voluntary repatriation for all POWs and civilians."

Lee said the plan contained things "we politically cannot agree" (Please turn to Page Two)

Litvinoff Dies; Red Diplomat

MOSCOW, Jan. 2 —(AP)—An official foreign office announcement has disclosed the death of Maxim Maximovich Litvinoff, who keynoted his collective security policy as Soviet foreign commissar with the often-quoted declaration, "peace is indivisible." He was 75.

Litvinoff died Dec. 31, and funeral arrangements were complete when his death was announced Wednesday morning prior to the funeral in the afternoon.

Pravda, organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, on which Litvinoff had been a member, called him an "old Bolshevik" and an outstanding Soviet diplomat.

He coined the phrase "peace is indivisible" in a moving League of Nations speech arguing for sanctions against Mussolini's attack on Ethiopia.

He negotiated U. S. recognition of Russia with President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, and said he believed it might guarantee peace.

Litvinoff was dismissed, surprisingly and suddenly, from his post as foreign minister on May 3, 1939. Vyacheslav M. Molotov took over.

that of Donald E. Crabtree, charged with reckless operation of a motor vehicle. Crabtree pleaded innocent and his hearing was set for Friday at 9:30 A. M.

Municipal court sessions, it was announced, will be held each morning except Sunday at 9:30 A. M.

The charge was filed against Crabtree after he had failed to make the curve on Dayton Avenue in front of the Cudahy Packing Co. plant; broke off a utility pole, and went 36 feet before striking a second pole. The mishap occurred at 11:45 P. M. Tuesday.

CRABTREE'S BOND of $20 was allowed to stand until his hearing is held. (Please turn to Page Two)

100 Killed By Hurricane

SYDNEY, Jan. 2 —(AP)—Reports reaching Australia say nearly 100 persons were killed by a Christmas Day hurricane on Epi island in the New Hebrides.

In recent months, hundreds of South Sea Islanders have moved to Epi from Ambrim island to escape volcano eruptions. Epi, one of the most fertile islands in the British and French-ruled New Hebrides group, has a normal population of about 3,000.

Presidential Announcement

Sweeping Shakeup In Scandal-ridden Bureau Promised

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 —(AP)—President Truman Wednesday announced plans for a sweeping shakeup of the scandal-ridden Internal Revenue Bureau.

He said the move is one of a series of steps he plans to take to protect the government "from the insidious influence peddlers and favor seekers, and to expose and punish any wrong-doers."

Most of these districts include a single state, but some of the large states have more than one district.

In place of the regional district collectors, the reorganization plan will put all operating functions of the bureau under 25 district offices, each headed by a district commissioner.

Field activities in each district will be under jurisdiction of the district commissioners.

The plan also calls for: All offices of the Internal Revenue Bureau to be filled through civil service except that of Commissioner of Internal Revenue whose appointment will be by the president and subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Establishment of "a strong, vigorous inspection service completely independent" of the rest of the bureau.

Mr. Truman announced his intentions in a statement issued shortly after Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had conferred with him at the White House. Tax collection is under the Treasury Department.

"Some persons in the Bureau of Internal Revenue have betrayed the public trust reposed in them," Mr. Truman's statement said.

"The revelation of that fact has come as a shock to all decent citizens. I have directed that every effort be made to expose and punish those who have betrayed the public trust."

28 Feared Killed in Crash

Rescuers Laboring Up Mountain Toward Wreck of C-47 Transport

PHOENIX, Jan. 2 —(AP)—Mounted on sure-footed ponies, a rescue team started up the face of a central Arizona mountain Wednesday to reach the wreckage of an Air Force C-47 plane and the bodies of its 28 passengers.

The twin-engine plane smashed into the face of Armer Mountain, 65 miles northeast of Phoenix, during a storm Sunday. Aboard were 19 West Point cadets, a crew of four and five other passengers.

The ground party faced a cold and difficult task in ascending the 7,000-foot mountain. Rock and ice slides kept them from going up Tuesday night. And bringing down the bodies is expected to be even more difficult.

Only one man has been to the crash scene. He is Arnold Johnson, 50-year-old foreman of the Jack Shoe Cattle Co., who made the ascent Tuesday.

Johnson said he couldn't tell how many bodies there were, but there was nothing to show any survivors. "The plane was in small pieces," Johnson reported.

LONDON, Jan. 2 —(AP)—Still clinging to his storm-cracked and wallowing ship in the Atlantic, Capt. Kurt Carlsen has radioed he would stay aboard until he is towed to port or sinks. And a new storm threatened.

If he leaves, the ship and cargo become a free prize on the high seas for any takers.

Carlsen stood his watch alone through the fifth night since he ordered all others to abandon the American freighter Flying Enterprise. He reported by radio that he was in good spirits.

The U. S. Destroyer Weeks Wednesday reached the side of the 6,710-ton freighter to join the U. S. Navy supply ship Golden Eagle, which has been standing by some 250 miles south of Ireland.

The British tug Turmoil was ready to put out from Falmouth and take the Flying Enterprise in tow. She is heeled over with a 60-degree list.

Two Yanks Freed From Soviet Zone

BERLIN, Jan. 2 —(AP)—The Army Wednesday identified two enlisted men who inadvertently crossed the Russian zone border surrounding Berlin and were held captive for about nine hours.

The men are Cpl. Robert J. Denning, St. Paul, Minn., and Cpl. Carl F. Hoge, Stockport, Ohio.

The soldiers reported to their regimental officers they were treated well during detention.

Thieves Get Big Haul At Middletown Store

MIDDLETOWN, Jan. 2 —(AP)—Theft of $15,000 worth of men's suits, overcoats and sox from the Neighbour Clothing Store, was reported to police Wednesday.

Loren D. Neighbour, proprietor, told authorities 325 suits, 75 overcoats and 100 pairs of sox were taken. Racks of raincoats and $60 in the cash register were not touched.

Twins Are Born In Different Years

ONEIDA, N. Y., Jan. 2 —(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Parteko of Lebanon have brand new twins—born in different years.

A girl, Anita Lind, was born at 11:27 p. m. Monday, 1951. A boy, Terry Lewis, arrived at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday, 1952.

Traffic Deaths At Top of List For Tragedies

Only Nevada Escapes Without Fatalities; 31 Killed in Ohio

(By The Associated Press)
The four-day New Year's week end took 602 lives in violent accidents, bringing the death toll from Christmas and New Year accidents to 1,400.

Traffic mishaps, as usual, accounted for the greatest toll over the New Year holiday—367 dead. Another 69 perished in fires, and 166 were victims of miscellaneous accidents, including plane crashes.

The National Safety Council had estimated 350 persons would be killed in traffic mishaps during the New Year holiday.

The toll from a variety of miscellaneous accidents was boosted by the crash of an Air Force C-47 plane on a central Arizona mountain, with a loss of 28 lives; and the wreck of a non-scheduled C-46 airliner in the Allegheny foothills of New York State, in which 26 persons died.

The four-day death toll still was lower than the record 789 total for the previous week's four-day Christmas holiday. That toll included 535 traffic victims.

The toll on the highways, as the nation celebrated New Year's, mounted as traffic deaths for 1951 appeared headed for the fourth highest mark in history—37,500. It would be the biggest toll since the record total of 39,969 in 1944. The 1950 toll was 35,000.

The New Year's accidental deaths were heaviest in five states—Ohio, New York, California, Texas and Illinois.

Every state except Nevada reported at least one accidental death.

At least 31 persons met death by accident in Ohio over the four-day holiday weekend.

The first traffic death in Ohio of the New Year occurred in Columbus at 12:02 a. m. Tuesday when Hruso Babich, 43, was struck and killed by a hit-skip driver near his home.

Truman's Decision May Come Next Month

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 —(AP)—A Democratic Congressman quoted President Truman Wednesday as saying he hopes to make known before Feb. 6 whether he will run again.

Rep. Hays of Ohio told reporters after a White House call that he had pointed out to Mr. Truman that Feb. 6 is the last day for filing of candidates for delegates from Ohio to the Democratic national convention.

He said Mr. Truman told him he "hoped he would be able to work out things so he would know what he is going to do before Feb. 6."

In Ohio, candidates for delegates must name their first and second choices for presidential nominees.

Hays told reporters his own personal support for the nomination, if even Mr. Truman decides against running again, will go to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Only One Lynching Recorded in 1951

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Jan. 2 —(AP)—The Tuskegee Institute reports that one lynching and three attempted lynchings occurred in the United States in 1951.

The report covers the entire nation, but all four incidents mentioned took place in southern states.

Institute President F. D. Patterson pointed out that it was the first year since 1947 that recorded lynchings have been so low. One was reported for 1947, two in 1948, three in 1949 and two last year.

March of Dimes Gets Under Way

COLUMBUS, Jan. 2 —(AP)—The 1952 March of Dimes, the nation's campaign against polio, got underway in Ohio Wednesday with 100,000 workers recruited to try and exceed the $1,766,835 raised in the state last year.

Last year county chapters of the Polio Foundation in Ohio spent about $900,000 to help pay hospital and treatment expenses of 1,135 Ohio polio victims. An additional $250,000 was sent by the National Foundation to Ohio chapters that had used their funds.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

R. Kenneth Kerr, always one for a wise crack and bit of humor, has come through again—this time with a farewell to the "penny postcard."

Appropriately, the farewell was on a penny postcard and it was mailed Dec. 31, just before its execution Jan. 1 by the federal government. Here is his message:

"My dear friend:
"I am dying tonight with a broken heart for never again can you call upon me to be your faithful servant as I have been for many years, for now, like this wonderful year of 1951, my time of departure is at hand and I am to pass into oblivion."

"Tonight, when you hear the whistles blowing and the bells ringing, bidding goodbye to the Old Year, 1951, you know that I, too, feel like old soldiers who never die but just fade away, will be leaving never to return."

"Goodbye and may God bless you.
"Your old friend,
"Mr. U. S. Penny Card"

The souvenir card was signed by "R. Kenneth Kerr."

Kerr was born in Washington C. H. and grew into young manhood here where he still has many friends. He is now the publisher of the Lancaster Eagle-Gazette.

Fox Drive and Trap Shoot Set

Jeff Lions Plan Events This Month

Tentative plans for a fox drive and a trap shoot were made by members of the Jeffersonville Lions Club at a meeting held on New Year's Day, Tuesday, in the community meeting room of the township hall.

The fox drive and trap shoot have tentatively been set for Jan. 19, but in case they cannot be held on that date an alternative date of Feb. 26 has been arranged.

Anybody can take part in the hunt, according to a report.

Pelts of foxes killed in the hunt will be sold, and the bounties will go to the Jeffersonville Lions Club.

Lunch will be served to those who take part in the hunt after it has been completed. Efforts are being made to find a place to hold the trap shoot.

Members of the committee planning the events are Harold Klever and Kenneth Walters.

One of the features of the Lions Club meeting was a series of talks by three members of the Jeffersonville High School Future Farmers of America chapter, including Roger Stockwell, Gene Jacobs and LaVerne Bock. The boys were introduced by their advisor and instructor, Lester Geiger, who is a member of the Lions Club. The boys told about the varied activities of the Future Farmers of America chapter.

Some discussion took place concerning the holding of a minstrel.

Slight Improvement Made by Dan Terhune

Danny Terhune, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, Wednesday was showing "slight improvement" from a bullet wound inflicted accidentally at the Terhune farm near here Monday.

Danny, in Children's Hospital in Columbus, was described as being in a serious but not yet critical condition.

His .22 calibre rifle was discharged accidentally while he was climbing down with it from the hay mow in the barn.

The bullet struck him in the right shoulder, shattering the first rib as it coursed down into his lung in the pleural area. The bullet lodged in the chest cavity, his father said.

Use of his right arm is still impaired, it was said, because of damage to the nerves.

After being X-rayed at Memorial Hospital here, he was taken to Children's Hospital where two operations were expected to be performed. However, surgery has not been resorted to yet, either to remove the bullet or to attempt repair of the injured nerves.

be up to council to fix the salary of the new municipal court, and that the law provided a minimum of $2,000 for a part-time judge, in an area of less than 20,000 population.

Jefferson Township, it was explained, had been left out of the set-up so the part-time salary could be paid.

Hill also explained that the annual appropriation ordinance would probably come up at the next meeting.

"THERE ARE many problems to solve for the good of the city, and it will take money to do this," Hill said.

Hill also stated that the bad weather recently had again caused heavy damage to city streets, and that new street equipment was badly needed.

He also mentioned the growing need for a storm sewer.

Miss Marie Melvin, the city auditor, reported on balances at the close of the old year. She said there was approximately $676.21 in the general fund, $1,474 in the recreation fund, $9,091.22 in the sewage disposal fund, $7,790.04 in the maintenance fund and $4,242.03 in the gasoline tax fund. The total of the balances is $29,273.50.

She also stated that outstanding bills, totaling $13,270.08 and which must be paid soon, are owed to the Baker Co. and Blue Rock.

World Returning To Normal After Greeting New Leap Year With Hilarity, Tragedy, Hope

(By The Associated Press)

The world returned to work Wednesday to start the business of a new year which has inherited the troubles, hopes and disappointments of the old.

And 1952, a leap year, will have an extra day before another holiday season with its spirit of peace and goodwill rolls around again.

Celebrations and festivals, and violence and death, gave the new year a bitter and sweet welcome.

There were the big celebrations in New York, Chicago, Paris and London at the stroke of the new year. There also were prayers at church watch night services. And ish such persons wherever they may be found."

The president said it is his intention to make the Bureau of Internal Revenue "a blue ribbon" agency.

Mr. Truman's move comes on the heels of a congressional investigation which turned up charges of skulduggery and some outright bribery in the tax collection service.

SCORES OF government officials and employees were forced out of their jobs during the hearings. Altogether, more than 100 officials and lesser employees have been fired or forced to resign from the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Three district collectors of revenue have been indicted on charges of bribery or fraud.

However, Mr. Truman told a news conference on Dec. 13 his administration was wise to the "wrongdoers" and would have ousted them even if there had been no congressional investigation.

At that time, Mr. Truman indicated he was preparing to set up a house-cleaning agency and told the reporters:

"Wrongdoers have no house with me, no matter who they are or how big they are."

From all signs, Mr. Truman still has in mind setting up such an agency but has run into difficulty getting the men he wants to serve on it.

In his statement today, the president said:

"We must rid the government of any employees who mis-use their official positions for personal gain. Equally important, we must correct any conditions which make it possible for such practices to exist."

New Prisoner Plan

to." He did not amplify.

In Tokyo, Col. George Patrick Welch, official spokesman for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters, summed up the UN plan like this:

"In principle, we are proposing an exchange of everyone who wants to be exchanged."

Here is how it would work:

1. Prisoners of war who want to be exchanged would be on a one-for-one basis. The UN holds about 120,000 prisoners, 11,000 held by the Reds.

But all South Koreans now in Communist armies would be reclassified as prisoners of war, swelling the Communist held total.

2. When one side ran out of POWs the exchange would be continued: One POW for one civilian who wanted to be repatriated. Foreign civilians would come first. POWs released in this exchange would have to promise never to fight again against the side releasing them.

3. PRISONERS of war who do not want to be exchanged would be released, but must promise not to fight in the Korean war again.

4. After all POWs had been exchanged or released, all remaining civilians who wished it would be repatriated.

5. The International Red Cross would interview all POWs at the exchange point to determine whether they did or did not want to be repatriated; the Red Cross would also talk to all civilians.

6. The nationality of civilians would be determined by which side of the 38th Parallel he lived when the war started.

Levie said great emphasis on freedom of choice of the individual as to whether he wanted to wind up on the Communist side of the line or the Allied side.

RED TRAFFIC BLASTED

SEOUL, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Allied warplanes blasted Communist rail traffic in North Korea Wednesday as a frigid haze enveloped ground fighting, now almost at a standstill.

Except for patrol contracts, the ground front was in one of its deepest lulls of the twilight war.

But in the air, United Nations fighter-bombers flew 210 sorties by noon and cut rail tracks at 49 points. Pilots said a number of railroad cars were damaged.

Fifth Air Force said Communist ground fire shot down two UN planes Wednesday.

Grain Market

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Slowly fading prices greeted the new year on the Board of Trade Wednesday. All cereals eased with losses in the near-by wheat and soybean contracts becoming quite substantial late in the day.

The market started out firm. Its original drive soon lost all power, however, and after the first 15 minutes the trend was downward. Lack of export business, poor domestic flour demand and heavy movement of livestock from farms served as a background for the selling.

SYLVANIA HALO LIGHT

"The Frame of Light for Viewing Comfort"

The Most Talked-about Television Feature in America

MILLIONS have read about, heard about HALO LIGHT, The Frame of Light for Viewing Comfort, in the leading models of the Sylvania Golden Jubilee line of TV sets. Here are the questions people have asked—and the answers.

What is HALO LIGHT?
It is a border of soft, cool light that frames your television picture.

What does HALO LIGHT do?
It reduces the sharp contrast between your brilliant TV screen and its darker surroundings.

Why is this an improvement?
Because it makes viewing pleasanter over longer periods.

Does HALO LIGHT affect the picture?
Yes, it actually makes the picture look clearer—makes it seem larger.

Is HALO LIGHT just an added feature?
No, it is built right into the Sylvania TV set—an improvement that marks a new milestone in television viewing.

Come in NOW—SEE for yourself the comfort of HALO LIGHT.

Father Peeks at New Year's Baby Born at Hospital Here

RICHARD ANDREWS gets a look at his new daughter, Kathryn Lynn, the first baby born during the New Year in Fayette County. He is shown peering through a window in the maternity ward of Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Dana Hyer, nurse, is holding the baby so that Andrews can get a closer look. The Andrews family will win a host of prizes donated by 15 Washington C. H. merchants if their baby is properly registered with either the Record-Herald or county Health Department as the first baby born during the New Year. (Record-Herald photo)

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 — When Secretary of State Acheson finished explaining our China policy to a Senate committee during the MacArthur hearings last spring, Senator Wiley of Wisconsin had a comment.

Wiley, who succeeded the late Senator Vandenberg as ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has one of the key congressional jobs on foreign affairs. The white-haired-Wiley said:

"Mr. Secretary, I think that you should be complimented on a pretty clear-cut statement as to the facts that heretofore were not brought to our attention in relation to this Chinese situation."

McGeorge Bundy, editor of a book on Acheson published Monday—"The Pattern of Responsibility"—recalls this incident and says dryly in a footnote:

"Senator Wiley's comment is somewhat surprising; almost all of Acheson's statement was a resume of facts published two years before in the white paper on China."

THAT WAS A 1,054 page book produced by the State Department to explain the history and failure of our dealings with the Chinese. At once it became the center of hot congressional argument.

If a man in Wiley's position didn't read this vital document—he was next to Vandenberg at the time—or forgot what he read, the average person can be excused if he's confused or forgetful about the details of our foreign dealings.

We live in the center of an international whirlwind where our wartime allies have become our peacetime enemies and our wartime enemies our peacetime allies.

Too many things happen too fast over too long a period for the average man to keep a clear, detailed and reasoned opinion on the major events which develop over months and years.

Bundy's book probably won't help those whose minds already have been made up on Acheson, such as his 100 per cent supporters, or those who go along with Senator McCarthy's attacks on the secretary. Bundy, a lifelong Republican whose brother married Acheson's daughter, has small patience with McCarthy who, like Wiley, is a Wisconsin Republican. But the book should benefit anyone who wants to form an opinion based on more information than has been available to him in one place before.

THIS BOOK is almost entirely made up of Acheson's public statements and testimony on our foreign policy and why it became a policy. Bundy, as editor and narrator, provides the bridges between the various statements and the events which brought them forth.

Bundy says he tried to present a fair picture of the secretary in this book. Generally he is sympathetic to Acheson, although in some places critical. It is not a book that can be tossed off in one sitting. It requires concentrated reading.

MY NEW HAT

I have written of this...
I have written of that;
But I never have told you
About my new hat.

I wore it to church...
Laid it down in the pew;
While I strolled down the aisle
For a brief interview.

But when I returned
To the place where I'd left
My beautiful hat,
I was surely bereft.

A rather plump lady
Of pleasing design,
Was sitting on top
Of this head-piece of mine.

It sure was a wreck...
It was flat as a cake;
Much flatter than what
Aunt Jemima can bake.

I am using the hat
As a lamp dolly now;
And everyone says
It is surely a "wow."

Only One Cure To Stop Threat of Disaster

Every taxpayer in Fayette County who files an income tax return, will be greatly interested in what Congress will do in the new session starting this year.

If the present national administration demands more money, or the country is suddenly thrown into a new world war, Congress will face a problem which will affect every man, woman and child, either directly or indirectly.

It is declared that President Truman will insist that new additional appropriations be made this year of 1952. Many members of Congress declare that the taxes now being collected are as high as the nation dares to go. Some place and somehow the waste of tax money must be stopped.

One prominent student of the economic and industrial situation has come forth with this declaration: "We have witnessed the aggrandizement of the federal government into a powerful, central national government which has encroached upon the functions, the authority and the financial resources of our state and local government." The danger, it is pointed out, is now becoming evident to everybody.

Another way of saying about the same thing is that the national government has acquired overwhelming power over all finances by invading the tax fields once reserved to the states. State and local government now trot to Washington, D. C., for money for all kinds of projects, on the theory that it is easy to get down there and everybody should get all he can while the gravy is being passed around.

In this way it becomes easier, year by year, for the national government, controlling all purse strings, to extend its political power among the people.

Industrial concerns, firms and individuals look to the government for contracts and favors. Washington has so much power now that it can make one man or one firm rich and ruin another.

The income tax favor scandals now plaguing the country suggest government officials are using their power to help enrich friends. But they can just as easily use their power to wreck enemies. When they start doing that unchallenged, the country will be in the hands of dictators.

There is only one cure for it and that is to reduce federal power by restoring states' rights and the constitutional system of checks and balances in Washington.

Until that is done the alarmists can rave and rant all they please but the power in Washington, D. C. will continue to grow more colossal. That can mean national disaster.

They Deserve Thanks

With the swearing in of the new city council of seven members at the City Hall Tuesday, two faces were missing from around the council table.

One was Richard Willis, councilman for approximately eight years, who for several years also had occupied the position of police judge, and John Boone, who had been a member of council for about the same length of time.

Both of these outgoing councilmen deserve praise from their fellow citizens for the conscientious service they rendered to the city.

Not many men are willing to sit as members of city council. There is plenty of criticism and seldom any commendation.

Both of these outgoing members served many years at a sacrifice, the exceedingly small remuneration received as councilmen meaning nothing to them. Both did the best they knew. Both proved their honesty and sincerity in seeking to help with city policies. They deserve a pat on the back for being willing to assume the responsibility that most citizens are more willing to evade than to undertake.

Women Don't Need Resolutions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK.—Do women make New Year's resolutions?

It is the belief of most men that they do. This is because they themselves overhaul their lives at this season, and chart a fresh course. And they figure whatever they do, why, women naturally will do likewise, because of the desperate feminine determination in America to outdo men in any field.

But that just shows any male generalization about the opposite sex is likely to be untrue. I have found women strongly resist the idea of making New Year's resolutions. Or, if they do make them, they do it in utter secrecy.

I was writing down my own list of promises to myself to live better when Frances looked over my shoulder.

"What have we here, Rover?" she asked.

"New Year's resolutions," I explained proudly. "I've got up to 112—and I'm only about half through."

"Half through?" she murmured.

"You aren't even half started."

She picked up my list—rather cynically, I thought—and skimmed through it, shaking her head.

"What do you mean by these first two items—that you'll give up sazerac cocktails and quit looking at wrestling matches on television?" she demanded. "You know we don't have a television set yet and you never drank a sazerac cocktail in your life."

"Well, I put down a couple of easy ones just to warm up with," I replied lamely. "It's always easier to give up something you don't do than something you do do."

"Why don't you also swear off taking rocket trips to the moon?" Frances suggested. "Your last few flights have left me rather worried."

Isn't that like a wife? A husband tries to mend his ways and what does he get? Help? No! Quibbles? Yes!

In an effort to get out of this conversational side-pocket, I inquired:

"All right, then, let me see your list."

"My list of what?"

"Your list of New Year's resolutions."

Frances looked at me carefully, then said:

"Tell me, Rover, what good resolutions do you think I need to make? Just how would you like me to be different?"

I thought that over, and then mumbled hastily that, of course, I was just joking. I put on my coat and went to the office. Then I went up to three different girls there and asked what their New Year's resolutions were.

"Are you kidding?" said the first girl.

"Why should I make any?" said the second girl.

"What's wrong with me now?" said the third girl.

Well, I think this small survey gives the answer. If a woman made New Year's resolutions and told them, she'd be admitting in public something was possibly wrong with her.

And women, generals and prophets simply don't do that.

Jobbing Eisenhower Propaganda

By George Sokolsky

It is not often that I read advertisements of stock-jobbers, but when one bore the title: "Eisenhower as a market influence," it caught the eye.

Poor Ike! How his friends abuse him! Arthur Wiesenberger and Company first announced that their pamphlet "Eisenhower as a Market Influence" is described as "must" by eminent authorities, names, of course, not given. It is also stated that this learned document is available for $2.50, which seems a lot of money for a four-page affair, even though it comes the aforesaid company's investment report for 1952, which I have not yet read.

I receive such published matter from banks, brokerage houses and similar institutions, free of charge, daily to the amount of several large wastepaper basketsful. Sometimes one is excellent, but I figure that $2.50 is an outside price for this one, equivalent.

to a mink coat bought wholesale, comparatively.

So, I got the thing, read it in three minutes flat, and was no wiser after I encountered Arthur Wiesenberger and Company than before. Seven palpable reasons, none of them different from anything that you might have seen in a dozen or two newspaper articles, are given to explain why like Eisenhower would be "an ideal candidate." The foremost reason is:

"1. An apparent minimum of political commitments."

Precisely what the writer means by that is not clear. If he means that General Eisenhower has taken no stand on the important political issues affecting the American people, it is not quite true. General Eisenhower has definitely supported the foreign policy of the Truman administration, avoiding, however, any serious discussion of current domestic affairs. He did once make a speech in favor of private enterprise.

If, however, the writer of this special supplement means that General Eisenhower has avoided commitments of a personal nature, he is altogether wrong, for the general is definitely tied in with three groups:

1. The Dewey-Duff-Morse combination of Republicans to whom are joined Senators Lodge and Saltonstall, who are captives of the CIO, because of the political conditions in the state of Massachusetts. This is a formidable group in the Republican party and cannot be ignored by General Eisenhower's opponents, nor is it believable that such practical men would walk out on a limb without some commitment from the general. They have been successful in their own operations and would not readily take risks

Operation May Help Some Deafness Cases

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A surgical operation for certain types of deafness is giving results that sometimes seem miraculous.

This is the famous fenestration operation, in which a new opening is made between the middle and inner ear. It was perfected to cure persons suffering from otosclerosis, a condition in which excessive, hard bone grows around the inner ear and causes a permanent type of deafness.

We have reports that this same type of operation is helpful also in other types of deafness. It is now being used in cases where scar tissue has formed as a result of chronic inflammation of the middle ear.

Chronic middle ear infections usually leave much scarring in those parts which carry sound impulses from the middle to the inner ear. The scar tissue is unable to carry such impulses, and thus blocks off sound from the delicate mechanism of the inner ear, the part which is connected with the brain. This results in a type of conduction deafness, so called because of the scar tissue interrupts the conduction of sound impulses from the middle to the inner ear.

In the fenestration operation, a new opening is made which bypasses the scar tissue and conducts sound impulses adequately. The inner ear must be in good working order for the operation to be successful. Usually, only one ear is operated on—the one most severely affected.

Of course, this operation is helpful only in certain cases of deafness. Even in these cases it should be considered only for patients with severe deafness in both ears, which prevents them from carrying on their normal activities. An ear specialist is the best judge of its usefulness in any particular case.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. N.: What causes excessive perspiration? What can I do about it?

Answer: All normal individuals do not excrete the same amount of perspiration. Some perspire a great deal; others tend to perspire but little. Drinking a large amount of water usually increases the amount of perspiration to some extent.

There are certain abnormal conditions which possibly will make sweating more profuse. These include all chronic infections, such as tuberculosis, or low-grade infections in the sinuses, the teeth, or the tonsils. Hyperthyroidism, or increased secretion from the thyroid gland, is also a cause of excessive perspiration.

To overcome excessive perspiration, you should bathe daily. It would be well to dab the affected parts of the body with a 25 percent solution of aluminum chloride every other day, for a short period of time. If the skin becomes irritated from the use of this preparation, stop using it and apply some bland ointment, such as cold cream, to the affected skin.

continuation of huge government expenditures, high taxes, controls and the inevitable interference with free markets.

"The nomination alone of Eisenhower could send to the stock market a large volume of idle funds awaiting a favorable occasion, his election even more."

Hold your horses, fellow citizens! There is nothing more uncertain than cause and effect in the stock market, as Bernard Baruch always advises the suckers. Certainly the cause and effect indicated here is not an 8-5 bet. Why are financiers such incompetent politicians?

Other Presidents Have Had Troubles With Officials

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Harry S. Truman is not the only President to become angered because persons in his official family have been of questionable behavior.

The Chicago Tribune, an anti-Truman newspaper, reported Monday that in 1923, President Harding, confronted by scandals in his administration, "came near committing murder."

The newspaper said the Harding incident "is known in the files of the secret service and to a number of intimates" of the late James Sloan of Danville, Ill., a former secret service operative who reportedly pried President Harding's fingers from the throat of an official who was involved in a scandal.

"An outraged Harding seized Col. Charles R. Forbes, head of the Veterans' Bureau who was involved in a scandal over hospital contracts, by the throat," the Tribune story related. "As he dug his fingers deeper into Forbes' throat, Harding shook him from side to side and exclaimed:

"You yellow rat! You double crossing—if you ever..."

At this point, the story reported Sloan rushed into the President's office and "pried the President's fingers from Forbes' throat."

Walter Trohan, who wrote the Tribune story, said Sloan told him of the incident in preparation of memoirs which were cut short by Sloan's death.

Gamblers Kick in As Deadline Passes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Monday midnight was the deadline for all professional gamblers to kick in 10 per cent of their handle to Uncle Sam for the first time.

The new tax law Congress enacted last fall requires professional gamblers—including bookies, punchboard operators and numbers writers—to:

1. Buy a $50-a-year federal occupational tax stamp, and

2. Pay to the U. S. Treasury 10 per cent of all the money placed with them as wagers.

The 10 per cent payments are required monthly. This part of the law became effective with December.

Slander Suit Halted By Pastor's Criticism

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Jan. 2.—An art teacher's $100,000 slander suit was halted Monday midway in the trial because a minister called the trial a farce.

The Rev. Graham Luckenbill, pastor of Christ Episcopal church, told his congregation Sunday it reminded him of the Inquisition and crucifixion of Christ.

Dr. Luella R. Mundel, fired last Summer as head of the art department at Fairmont State College, brought the suit against Thelma Brand Loudin, Fairmont housewife and private music teacher who is a member of the West Virginia board of education.

Dr. Mundel claims she lost her job because Mrs. Loudin told other members of the board Dr. Mundel was an atheist and a poor security risk. Judge John Meredith said:

"The court has been asked to declare a mistrial because of the ill-advised remarks made by a respected minister in the pulpit. Realizing the influence that Rev. Mr. Luckenbill no doubt has in this community, and rightly so, the court does not feel that these parties will receive the kind of trial they are entitled to."

Judge Meredith declined to say whether he planned to cite the pastor for contempt. There was no immediate indication when the case might be brought up again for retrial.

Nine Traffic Deaths Occur During 1951

No Fatalities in Washington C. H. During Year

In 1951, there were nine traffic deaths in Fayette County, one of them having been due to an accident during the last days of 1950. The number of fatalities was two more than during 1950, when seven persons lost their lives.

All of the nine fatal accidents occurred outside of Washington C. H.

It left Washington C. H. one of the cities in Ohio without a fatal accident due to traffic during the entire year.

In 1949, there were eight traffic fatalities, five in 1948, 13 in 1947 and 17 in 1946.

The peak year for traffic deaths in the county was in 1941, when 23 persons met death on the highways, seven of them within a mile radius on the Lewis and Devalon Roads, five of them having occurred at the B&O crossing at "Log-town."

THE TRAFFIC DEATHS, with time and place listed where they occurred in the county during the past year, follow:

January 2—Gus Shrader died of injuries sustained on the Chillicothe Road near the NCR plant Christmas eve.

May 13—Mrs. Bess Jones, Springfield, died of injuries sustained on the South Solon Road, northwest of Jeffersonville, several weeks previously.

April 15—Alfred Mecum, Trimble, on Route 22, 1 1/2 miles west of Johnson's Crossing.

Sept. 2—Omar Lavern Morris, Jr., 10, skull crushed when he fell under the wheels of a truck near Waterloo.

Sept. 30—Mrs. Grace Nooks, Greenfield, on Jamestown Road at Rattlesnake Bridge.

Nov. 14—Joe Findley Jordan, Jr., on U. S. 22 at Emerson Farming.

Dec. 2—Luther Woodrow Vance and Richard J. Vance, of Greenfield, at north edge of Good Hope.

Dec. 17—Bert Butts, killed by DT&I train at Jeffersonville.

None of those killed this year were pedestrians.

The first casualty, who had been struck Christmas eve 1950, but died the past year, was a pedestrian.

Resettlement Program Fizzles Out in Malaya

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya—The federation government has admitted failure in its program of resettlement at the village of Bukit Changgang in Selangor and has decided to eliminate the village.

A government statement said the place had been the haunt of a gang of Communist terrorists and the people of the village and resettlement camp had failed to cooperate with the government—in fact, had continued relations with the terrorists.

About 170 Chinese squatter families are being moved to Port Swettenham 30 miles away. The evacuation was carried out as a surprise maneuver. The settlers suddenly were awakened by loud speakers at dawn and told to move out.

Life Insurance Sales Fewer Than Last Year

NEW YORK—Life insurance purchases in November totaled $2,446,000,000, nine percent less than the amount purchased a year ago, the Life Insurance Agency Management Association reports.

The purchases of ordinary life insurance in November were $1,556,000,000. Industrial life insurance bought amounted to 453 million dollars, about equal to the figure a year ago.

New group life insurance purchases amounted to 437 million dollars. This was 49 percent less than the November, 1950, figure and reflected the curb on fringe benefits under the wage freeze, the association said.

'Occupation Orphans' Get Care in Austria

VIENNA—Vienna is publicly caring for 2,083 "occupation orphans," fathered by Allied soldiers, the Austrian capital's city government announced in its annual report.

Babies said to have American fathers head the list. They total 953. Russian-fathered babies come second with 639. They are followed by the British with 332 and the French with 159 children.

'Home Sweet Home' Composer Had No Real Home of His Own

(Central Press Association) WASHINGTON—On a cold, dank right in late January, 1821, a slim, furtive figure slipped noiselessly through a prison gate and ran into the side streets of London, taking care to keep well in the shadows.

He hastened through narrow alleys and around places where people might be congregated and headed for—of all places—the theater.

This fugitive from debtors' prison was John Howard Payne, American author and playwright who had been placed behind bars for being unable to pay bills totaling some $7,000.

Under English law he was to remain in prison until the debt was paid. Just how a man in prison was to pay back $7,000 no one pretended to know.

Payne found his answer in an educated and soft-hearted jailer, who let him slip out of prison at night in order to attend the rehearsals of a French play which Payne had earlier translated and rewritten.

THE 30-YEAR-OLD writer made his "sneak prevue" appearances at the London theater with such telling effect that the play, Therese, made a hit with the audiences and Payne soon had the only paid back the $7,000 he owed, but netted himself a handsome profit as well.

It was with this money that the American poet went gaily off to Paris and Italy and put the finishing touches to an opera little remembered today—but the music of which is sung all over the civilized world.

"Hit tune" from the opera-Clari, or the Maid of Milan, was the ever-remembered song Home, Sweet Home.

It was first sung in London in 1823 as part of the opera written by Payne, who by this time was back in his accustomed role of bankrupt author. In fact, it was because of his sad pecuniary state that the opera ever got to England in the first place.

Down to his last tuppence and unwilling to try living any longer on the promises of his well-meaning, but non-producing friends, Payne in a desperate move, wrapped up six of his plays, including the opera, and sent them to a London producer.

The delighted producer immediately recognized the worth of the package. He sent Payne a check for 250 pounds for all rights and went into production.

As so often happens, in spite of the great success of the opera Clari and the wonderful tune Home, Sweet Home, John Howard Payne received the least benefit of anybody.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, of Ohio, one of Payne's staunchest admirers in the House of Representatives, takes up the story from there.

"The song was published and became immediately popular, being quoted in sermons and sung in churches as well as in the homes, theaters and on the streets," says Congresswoman Bolton.

"Yet the publisher did not even place Mr. Payne's name on the title sheet nor send him a complimentary copy!

"Payne returned to New York in financial straits which continued in spite of handsome royalties earned from his earlier plays, Brutus, Virginius and Charles the Second.

"From 1841 to 1845, and from 1851 until his death the following year, he was United States consul at Tunis. The appointment was obtained through friends, Payne was bankrupt at the time."

ALTHOUGH in his 60s at the time of his death, Payne had never married and apparently never had a home he could call his own.

All his years he wandered about the civilized world, homeless, and more often than not, penniless, while in his mind ran the words for that place for which he longed most—home.

These are the words as originally put to the song "Home, Sweet Home," by Payne:

"Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam,

Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.

A charm from the skies seems to hallow us there,

Which seek thro' the world, is ne'er met with elsewhere. Home! home! sweet, sweet home There's no place like home, there's no place like home."

New Service Is Found For Orinoco River

NEW YORK—A new source of the Orinoco River, 40 miles east of its previously reported source, has been found by a French-Venezuelan expedition, the American Geographical Society has announced.

The Orinoco emerges as a tiny trickle from the side of a 75-foot cliff in a 3,600-foot mountain. The Venezuelan-Brazilian boundary is determined by the source of the river.

The expedition is headed by Maj. Franz Antonio Riquelme of the Venezuelan Army and Prof. Jose Crujeira, director of the Museum of Natural Science in Caracas. The report of the discovery was received by radio from the expedition.

Mallow-Stevens Vows Read on Christmas Day

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mallow of near Clarksburg are announcing the marriage of their daughter Irma to Pvt. Howard E. Stevens of Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, son of Mrs. William McClarren of Circleville and the late Howard Stevens.

The double ring ceremony was performed on Christmas day, in the Presbyterian manse in Frankfort with Rev. Bernard Spare officiating at 3:45 P. M.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Maynard Speakman of near New Holland as matron of honor for the bride and Mr. Speakman who served as best man for the bridegroom.

Fashioned of grey Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride's street length gown was designed with a strapless bodice and a short sleeved Eton jacket with a Peter Pan collar.

Black velvet accessories complemented her dress and the gold watch she wore was the gift of the groom and her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Speakman wore a toast brown street length gown styled similarly to the bride's, with accessories of brown and her corsage was of pink roses.

The new Mrs. Stevens who was graduated from Frankfort High School, continued her education at Wilmington College and received her degree at Ohio University.

She was a member of Alpha Phi Kappa social sorority and Alpha Kappa Delta sociology honorary.

She has been a member of the faculty of the Frankfort Schools for the past two years.

Pvt. Stevens is a graduate of Clarksburg High School and Ohio University and has been a member of the armed forces since July 1, 1951.

After a short wedding trip they left to make their home in San Antonio, Texas.

Class Holds Annual Party on New Year's Eve

The annual New Year's Eve watch party and covered dish dinner of the Home Builders Class of Madison Mills Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeBeau, Monday evening with thirty-six members present.

Following the congenial dinner hour the business session opened with the hymn—"There's a Wilderness In God's Mercy," followed by prayer by the retiring president, Mr. Arthur Schlichter.

Scripture reading from "Acts" was given by Mr. Wilbur Allemang and the devotional topic was "The Conquering Christ," in charge of Mr. Schlichter.

The first reading by Mrs. Glenn Hidy was entitled "Acts As A Church History," the second, "Acts Of The Holy Spirit," "The Record of the Conquering Christ" by Mrs. A. E. Dawson, "Some People In Acts," by Mrs. Lester Haines, "Some People In Acts-Continued," by Mrs. H. W. Melvin, "Skill In Living" and a poem prayer by Mrs. Dwight King.

The hymn "Brighten The Corner Where You Are," was followed with another reading, "The Shoe Clobber and Christ," and an article "Is Our Church Costing Too Much" by Mr. Schlichter.

The hymn "I Would Be True" and the Lord's Prayer closed the devotional period.

It was decided to continue the good deed for the month project and a committee of Mrs. Owen Kinsley, Mrs. Josephine Noble and Mrs. Fred LeBeau, was appointed for the month of February.

It was also decided to contribute to the March of Dimes and following the close of the business session a program committee composed of Mr. A. E. Dawson and Mrs. Glenn Hidy conducted a quiz program and games which provided a merry hour.

At midnight a worship service was held and Scripture reading was given by Mr. Wilbur Allemang, prayer by Mrs. Homer Allison and the following readings by Mr. Schlichter: "A New Record For The New Year," and a speech by W. B. Jennings on the New Year.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. LeBeau during the evening and in the serving of refreshments following the midnight service were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn. The next meeting will be held Feb. 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn.

Decisive Victory Scored by Illini In Rose Bowl

Maryland Upsets
Tennessee and
Kentucky Beats TCU

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(P)—Tennessee may be the nation's No. 1 collegiate football team but you would have a mighty tough job today convincing either Maryland or Illinois.

The boys who operate the split-T formation for Coach Jim Tatum at Maryland, have the figures to back up their argument. They soundly whipped Gen. Bob Neyland's Tennessee Volunteers, 28-13, Tuesday in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

Illinois, while not coming into direct contact with Tennessee, showed it has a pretty fair country outfit itself by walloping Stanford's Indians, kinspins of the Pacific Coast Conference, 40-7 in the Rose Bowl. Victory by the Illini was expected but not such great margin.

Maryland ranked third in the Associated Press poll. Illinois was fourth, three notches above Stanford.

The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all post-season gridiron classics, and the Sugar Bowl headed a nation-wide card of 13 games which drew more than 400,000 fans, with millions more looking in on the Illinois-Stanford affair in Pasadena, Calif., via a nationwide television hookup.

THE BOWL in Pasadena was packed with the largest turnout, 96,825, while another 82,000 jammed into the Sugar Bowl.

The 1951 rankings ran true to form in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., where Georgia Tech (No. 5) edged Baylor (No. 9), 17-14, on Pepper Rodgers' 10-yard field goal in the closing minutes.

But Kentucky's Wildcats, riding on the arm of Vito Parilli, dumped No. 11 ranked Texas Christian, 20-7, before 75,000 in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. Kentucky was ranked 15th.

Other results in what may be the last of the big bowl days included:

Miami 14, Clemson 9, in the Gator; Texas Tech 25, College of Pacific 14, in the Sun; Houston 26, Dayton 21, in the Salad; Stetson 35, Arkansas State 20, in the Tangerine; Camp Drake Army 26, Yokosuka Naval Base 12, in the Cherry in Yokohama, Japan; Hinds J. C. 27, San Angelo J. C. 22, in the Oleander; Bethune - Cookman 27, Texas College 13, in the Steel; Prairie View 27, Arkansas A. M. & N., 26, in the Prairie, and San Diego State 34, Hawaii 13, in the Pineapple Bowl in Honolulu.

ED MODZELEWSKI and Ed Fullerton, a pair of hard hitting backs from Pennsylvania's coal regions, were largely responsible for ending Tennessee's all-winning streak at 20 games and stretching Maryland's string of victories to 12.

Modzelewski, ripping the Tennessee line to shreds, outgained the entire Volunteer team as he picked up 153 yards in 28 tries. Fullerton scored two touchdowns, one on a 46-yard sprint after intercepting a pass tossed by All-America Hank Lauricella.

The Maryland defense was so tight the Vols gained only 81 yards on the ground and Lauricella was held to a net gain of one yard in seven times he toted the ball.

In contrast to the Sugar Bowl game in which Maryland took a 21-0 lead on three touchdowns within seven minutes early in the game, Illinois and Stanford staged a ding dong affair for two periods with the Indians holding a 7-6 halftime advantage.

Midway of the third period Stan Wallace, Illini halfback, intercepted a pass from Stanford's Gary Kerkorian and sped 54 yards to the Stanford 12. On the third play Fullback Bill Tate ripped around right end for five yards and a touchdown.

From there on the Illini poured it on to continue the Big Ten's dominance over the PCC in the classic. They didn't score again in the third session but posted 27 points on the scoreboard in the final period to break a Rose Bowl record for points in one quarter. The previous high was 22 made by the Alabama aerial circus of Dixie Howell and Don Hutson in 1935.

A CROWD of 65,837 had almost settled for a Baylor victory in the Orange Bowl when the Ramblin' Wreck of Georgia Tech suddenly caught fire in the final four minutes and scored 10 points.

A 33-yard run by Bill Teas set up the tying touchdown, scored by Buck Martin on a short pass from Darrell Crawford. Shortly after BIG DON NEWCOMBE, ace pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is all set and ready to go—you know where Don is acceptable for military service, it has been announced, although at first it was believed a kidney condition would keep him out.

Spartans Eye Irish Before Big 10 Start

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(P)—Michigan State, facing what should be its severest test of the season thus far, will risk its undefeated record Wednesday night against once-beaten Notre Dame at South Bend.

If the Spartans can nab their seventh successive victory, the Big Ten title race will open Saturday with four unbeaten entries.

Indiana, Iowa and Illinois each have posted seven wins and are poised for the championship campaign unmarred in preliminary traffic.

Illinois added No. 7 Monday by trimming Marquette, 68-57. Indiana and Iowa wrapped up their seventh triumphs last week and are not scheduled this week prior to Saturday's firing.

Saturday's opening Big Ten card sends Illinois to Minnesota, Michigan at Indiana, Iowa at Michigan State, Ohio State at Northwestern and Purdue at Wisconsin.

Michigan State, with a well-balanced but comparatively low-scoring outfit, has defeated Wayne, Denver, Marquette, Detroit, Dartmouth and Princeton.

Notre Dame's only loss has been to Indiana, 67-54. The Irish list as their victims St. Thomas, Wabash, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Loyola of Chicago, Penn and Purdue.

Football Records Broken by Bruins

LOS ANGELES—UCLA's footballers set eight individual and team records as well as tying two other marks during the recently concluded 1951 season.

Paul Cameron, sophomore halfback, was the chief record buster. His total offense record of 1484 yards in nine games broke Kenny Washington's 1939 record of 1394 in 10 games. His 66 completed passes obliterated Ray Nagel's 1948 mark of 59 completions. Paul set a new record in the Santa Clara game by tossing four TD passes, thus topping Bob Waterfield's three TD mark. He also tied Waterfield's one game total offense record of 306 yards.

End Ernie Stockert established two new pass catching records. He caught 30 passes to better Bob Wilkinson's previous Bruin season high of 27. His seven passes caught against Illinois set another mark.

No. 78 Is Retired

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—Football Jersey No. 78 worn by Don Coleman, Michigan State's All-America tackle, has been permanently retired from use by Spartan grid coach Biggie Munn. It is the first time any Michigan State athlete has been so honored.

wards Pete Ferris intercepted a pass thrown by All-America Larry Isbell and returned it 46 yards to Baylor's 9. When three plays netted only three yards, Rodgers booted the game winning field goal.

Parilli was at his best in leading Kentucky to its second straight bowl triumph. Last year the Wildcats whipped Oklahoma, ranked No. 1 in the Sugar Bowl.

The Kentucky Babe tossed touchdown passes of 5 and 13 yards to Emery Clark for the first two scores and Ed Hamilton capped a fourth period drive with a four-yard smash for the final tally.

Basketball To Resume After Holidays Friday; Lions Face Greenfield

The WHS Lion cagers today were getting ready to resume their regular basketball schedule with a game here Friday night with Greenfield's Tigers.

That game will be one of two played in the county that evening. Frankfort's basketekers are booked for a game at Good Hope.

Madison Mills' Millers will return to action at the same time, but they will be playing at Atlanta.

With the exception of Madison Mills, the county teams have not had any games since before Christmas. First the snow and icy roads knocked out several games and then they ran into the customary holiday break in the schedules.

The Millers kept busy with a game with the Alumni Dec. 28.

Cincinnati Cager Averages 34 Points For Seven Games

CINCINNATI, Jan. 2.—(P)—Sandy-haired Robin Freeman has played in all of Cincinnati Hughes high school's basketball games this season and has had only two bad nights—that is, if you can count a 25-point total in each of the games a bad night.

For the five-foot, 11-inch Freeman, anything less than 30 points a game is below par. Right now he's pumping in the ball at the jaw-dropping average of 34.1 markers a contest.

Robin's amazing point production already has some coaches terming him the greatest scholastic cager ever to emerge from the greater Cincinnati area. The captain of the Big Red, using a wide assortment of shots from all angles of the court, has thus far plunked in 97 field goals and 45 free throws for 239 points in seven games.

Freeman's coach, Howard (Burl) Grimes, credits the lad's wide variety of shots, keen sense of timing, and intense desire to play as being chiefly responsible for his scoring feats this year.

The 17-year-old forward, however, thinks it's his "improved jump shot" that's been spelling the difference.

"Last year I couldn't even shoot that type, but I practiced all summer long and now I think it's my best shot," Robin says.

Italians Go for Soccer And in Big Way, too

ROME.—(P)—If you doubt soccer is popular in Italy read these statistics:

Exactly 109,347 players—all members of the Italian soccer federation—played 64,951 games during the 1949-50 season.

The federation, which announced the figures, said 4,962 referees are enrolled.

Breaking down the statistics on games played during last season, the federation reported:

Of the total of 64,951 contests, 39,161 were in league play for the various championships disputed annually; 22,220 were played for the boys' leagues titles; there were 3,517 non-title or friendly games, and 53 contests were against foreign teams in and outside of Italy.

Rose Bowl Scalpers Are Given Bad Time

PASADENA, Jan. 2.—(P)—Police today reported an all-time low in arrests of persons scalping tickets to the Rose Bowl game. In contrast to former years, nobody, it seemed, wanted tickets.

One man, disgusted because he couldn't sell or use his ducats, handed two of them to a policeman and asked him: "Give 'em away for me!"

Red Rookie Camp Set To Open March 1

CINCINNATI.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds will conduct a tryout Camp at Columbia, S. C., from March 1 through March 21. The camp will be under the direction of Farm Supervisor Bill McKechnie, Jr. Other Red scouts and minor league managers will serve as instructors. The various youngsters at the camp will have to pay their own expenses but any players signed to Redleg contracts will be reimbursed in full.

However, the boys have not gone stale during the layoff; they have been keeping in shape with regular practice sessions throughout the holidays.

FOR THE LIONS of WHS, the Friday night game with Greenfield's Tigers will be the second of the season with an SCO League foe.

They won their first league tilt from Circleville's Tigers, 46 to 39 on Dec. 14.

Just before the holiday recess—which, incidentally, was kept hot with the four-team tourney here—the Lions were nosed out, 59 to 54, by Dayton Fairview.

And, it is that Dayton team that provides a sort of yardstick for measuring Friday night's game with Greenfield.

The Tigers, considered the "team to beat for the SCO title" at the start of the season not only took a drubbing from the Fairview team in the holiday tourney at Xenia, but were beaten by a wider margin than were the Lions.

Comparative scores may not mean too much in picking winners, but they can provide the tip on the kind of game in prospect. Thus, indications are that since the Tigers were proven not invincible by Fairview a close game between them and the Lions is in prospect.

THE LIONS FAILED to win a game in the holiday tourney they sponsored, but they did give a good account of themselves in both. In fact, their record shows that they have been in the thick of every one of the five games they have played to date. Their first two games were lost by only three points each (Xenia and Bexley), the third (Dayton Kiser) by 16 points and the fourth by 5 points.

Coach Harry Townsend had the Lions sharpening their shooting eyes throughout the holiday practice sessions. Considerable emphasis has also been placed on smoothing out the ball handling and passing maneuvers. Inexperience that has led to wildness on occasions has been one of the biggest handicaps of the squad's play. But, Townsend said, "they're getting better and steadier right along."

New Year's Golf Match Is Played

OTTAWA, Ill., Jan. 2.—(P)—The first annual New Year's Day golf tournament went off as scheduled Tuesday in 18 degree temperature at the snow-covered Pine Hills course.

Seven out of a field of 35 that signed up for the meet competed. George Stortz, 43-year-old grocer, was the handicap winner with a gross of 51 for nine holes.

Low gross of 47 was posted by Fred Vicini, well-known district amateur.

Snow, which had drifted three to four feet high in some places, bothered the players only on the greens. Each time a player shot onto a green, he was given an automatic two strokes to hole out since it was impossible to putt.

Gentlemen on Ice Statistics Disclose

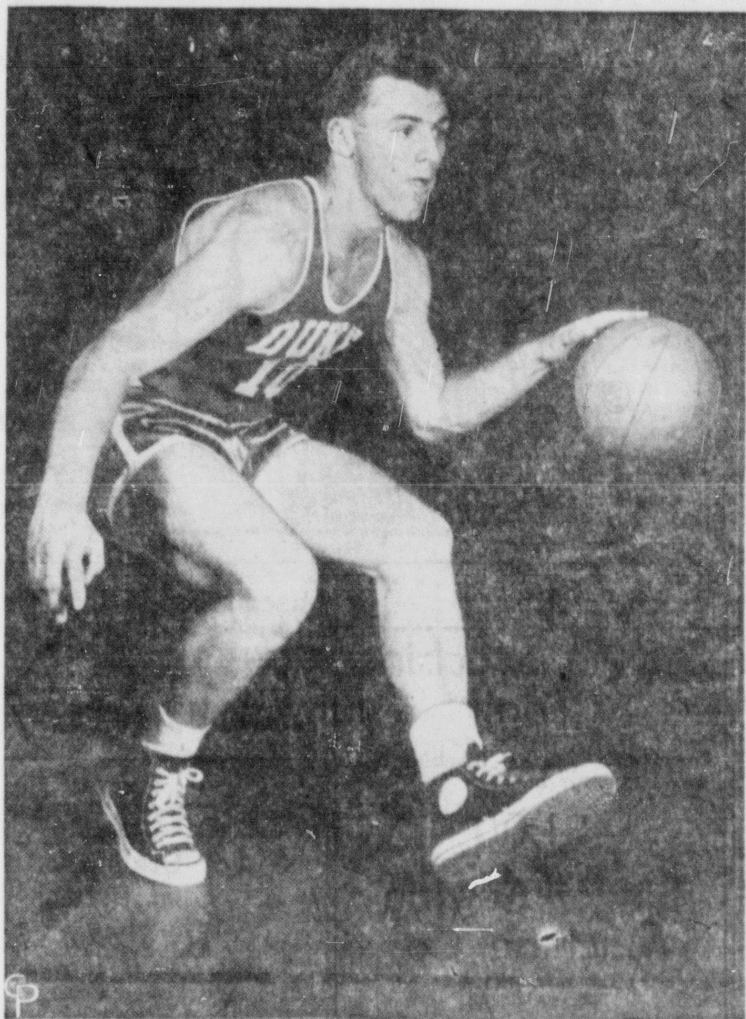

MONTREAL.—(P)—Players in the National Hockey League this season are playing like little gentlemen. At least the NHL statistics indicate as much. At the one-third mark of play there were 166 minutes less in penalties this season as compared to last. After the first 70 games of the schedule last year there was a total of 1401 minutes in penalties meted out to six teams. For the same number of contests this season there was a total of only 1235 minutes for the same number of clubs.

Mikan on Television

MINNEAPOLIS.—(P)—The Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association are sponsoring George Mikan on a television program. Big George conducts a half-hour show every Saturday morning on a local TV station. The Lakers film all road games and screen them on TV with squad members handling the commentary. Mikan is the general impresario and master of ceremonies.

Kansas Is Rated Top Cage Outfit

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(P)—Phog Allen's all-conquering Kansas Jayhawks has edged out undefeated Illinois as the nation's top-ranking college basketball team in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Kansas, pride of the Big Seven, and recent conference tournament winner, received 31 first place votes to 23 for the Illini. The Jayhawks, triumphant in all 10 of their games, attracted a higher point total to shade the Big Ten stalwart, 751 to 739. Illinois' record is 7-0.

Kentucky, now 6-2, received 594 points to fall nearly 100 behind Washington's third place 688. The Wildcats barely managed to eke out fourth spot over unbeaten Indiana and NYU.

Lakers Got Star In Whitey Skoog

MINNEAPOLIS — As if having George Mikan isn't enough! The Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association now have Myer Upton (Whitey) Skoog, one of the greatest players ever to represent the University of Minnesota.

When Skoog came off the floor after his last game for the Gophers, Dr. L. J. Morrill, president of the university, rushed out and shook his hand.

On top of breaking most Minnesota scoring records, Skoog was a brilliant student. He has the Big Ten Medal to prove it. The medal includes proficiency in studies.

Whitey scored 986 points for the Gophers in three years. Last season he netted 316 points in 14 games. Skoog missed only four free throws last season.

A modest fellow of 24, Skoog was the No. 1 draft choice of the Lakers. When Mikan first saw him he said: "Skoog has the greatest jump shot I ever saw."

Stiff Night Games Scheduled by Reds

CINCINNATI, Jan. 2 — (P)—The Cincinnati Reds will play 18 of their 25 night home games in 1952 with clubs that finished in the first division last season.

The Reds will go against Brooklyn six times under the light of Crosley Field; five times against Boston; Philadelphia and St. Louis, four each; New York, three; Chicago, two; and Pittsburgh, once.

Horsemen's Dinner Here Set for Friday Night; Big Turnout Expected

Indications today were that there would be a capacity turnout for the Horsemen's Dinner at Legion Hall here Friday night.

Harold (Babe) Maddux, the coordinator for the behind-the-scenes committee on arrangements, said the "tickets are going good." He did not, however, say what the total to date is.

The purpose of the dinner, which has come to be something of a winter fixture on the Fayette County sports calendar, is simple: just to provide an opportunity for horse-loving Fayette Countians to get together and talk on their favorite subject.

Two years ago, a dinner honoring the great pacer, Jerry the First, and his co-owners Eddie Cobb of Washington C. H. and Jerry Burdick of New York, was held in the Legion Hall.

The following year another dinner, this one an invitation affair, was held at the Country Club to give recognition to the many owners, trainers and drivers of harness horses who headquarter at the Fairground here.

THIS YEAR the dinner has been moved back to the Legion Hall. It is a "Dutch treat" affair in which everyone pays for his own dinner. Tickets are being sold in advance, Maddux explained, to get a line on the attendance as a guide for the Legion Auxiliary's plans for the dinner.

George Steen, chairman of the Fair speed committee, has been cast in the role of presiding judge by the planning committee.

Frank E. Ellis, the Fair secretary, is to be the toastmaster; this is a familiar role for Ellis and one that he filled for the first dinner.

The principal speaker of the evening is to be Ed Hackett, secretary of the United States Trotting Association. A committee spokesman said Hackett had not said what his subject would be, but he added "you can be sure he'll talk about harness horses and racing and that he'll have something worthwhile to say."

Future Bombers To Be Pilotless

Guided Missiles May Replace Them

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The United States may be starting to build the last of the man-flown bombers.

When these big planes reach the obsolete age, a new generation of transoceanic guided missiles and pilotless aircraft are expected to be ready to take over the long range aerial bombardment jobs.

But, airmen, familiar with planning for the future, say that doesn't mean the current new heavyweight bombers will be out of date soon.

The Air Force has two heavy jet bomber type projects—the Boeing B-52, the first model of which is completed and undergoing tests, and the Consolidated Vultee B-60, the swept-wing, all-jet successor to the combination piston-jet B-36, a prototype model of which is approaching completion.

There are several arguments advanced against keeping on building bigger and bigger bombers, including these:

1. Heavy bombers are getting too costly in money, manpower and materials.

2. Guided missiles, when improvements are attained in guidance systems, can do everything the heavy, strategic bomber does at less cost in manpower, materials and perhaps, in a major war, in money.

USING THE B-52 as an example, military aviation officials make these points:

As combat planes go, it will last a long time (perhaps five or ten years) because the aerodynamic design of the airframe appears to be about the maximum that can be expected. It is as streamlined, as efficient for lift as the drafting board man can make it.

The airframe design will live through several generations of engine design. Indeed, different type engines may be used in different B-52s for different kinds of missions.

Despite the optimism about longevity of the big bombers, no one, including the industry, disregards the ascendancy of the guided missile. Indeed, most of the big aircraft companies, Boeing among them, are working intensively in their own missile research laboratories.

One industry official, Robert E. Gross, president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., says we have a fine start on the problem of guided missiles but hastens to point out the question of guiding the missiles is still a thorny one. He told a group of bank officials recently that:

"It's not hard to build just a missile of any range, long or short; it's not too hard to build short-ranged guided missiles. But up to now it's been awfully hard, if not impossible, to build a long-range guided missile. The long range guidance system, not the missile—that's the key. And that's the prize—what the race all over the world is for—and we must and we can win it."

"In plain language, we must have a guidance system that can go beyond the horizon. How do you bend a beam (an electronic beam along which the missile rides) around the curve of the earth's surface?"

Unemployed To Get Benefits Here from Law

Jobbers Have New Responsibilities Placed on Them

Unemployed persons in Fayette County will find that a few changes have been made in the requirements for drawing unemployment compensation.

But they will receive some encouragement in learning that their lawmakers have provided some help in combating the high cost of living.

Effective Jan. 1, Tuesday, the maximum weekly benefits were increased from $25 to $28 a week.

WARD MILLER, who has charge of the unemployment office here, said he had no idea how many persons would make applications for unemployment compensation under the provisions of the new amended law.

He stated that the mere fact that employment is good now will probably keep the number of claimants down.

As the county entered the new year there were only 154 persons on the active file seeking employment, compared to 272 as the year 1951 opened.

THREE MAJOR CHANGES are included in the amended unemployment compensation law.

Qualified applicants may now receive a maximum weekly benefit amount of $28 per week instead of $25. However, this maximum may be received only by those who file applications after January 1. All applications filed prior to this time are processed and paid under the terms of the old law.

Here are the other two major changes:

(1) New emphasis placed on disqualifying reason for separation, not only from the claimant's most recent jobs, but from all other jobs within the base period.

(2) Abolition of the quarterly wage reporting system, and substitution of a provision requiring all employers to furnish wage and separation information whenever a former employee files an application for benefits.

THE AMENDED LAW is significant because it imposes new responsibilities upon the individual worker. When he becomes unemployed and files an application for benefits, he completes his own application form. At that time, he must know and be able to list the employers for whom he worked in the base period, the length of time he worked for each, and the reason for separation from each job.

The local office where he files his application will then send an official notice to each employer listed by the claimant, asking for wage and separation information necessary to process the application.

Each employer so notified is required by law to furnish this information within seven days after the request is mailed, and a fine of $5 may be imposed for each failure to comply.

THE LAW FURTHER provides that in those instances where an employer fails to furnish the requested information within the stipulated time, the statement of the claimant may be used as a basis for processing the application.

Reasons for leaving a job may prove a stumbling block for many claimants in their efforts to obtain benefits. Under the old law, a claimant who quit or was discharged from his most recent employment, was barred from drawing benefits for five weeks.

Under the amended law, a claimant who quits his most recent employment or is discharged for just cause is barred from drawing benefits during the period of unemployment caused by such quit or discharge.

Benefits are paid on the basis of all wages received during the base period. If, however, there was any employment in the base period which was terminated by a disqualifying action on the part of the claimant, all wages received during that period of employment are removed or cancelled from the base period. The claimant will receive ceive benefits based only on any remaining employment which was terminated by a good or valid reason.

DEPENDENCY ALLOWANCES which have been part of the unemployment compensation act in recent years are still retained. A claimant who has dependent children under eighteen may receive $5 extra for two children.

BUC Administrator Ernest Cornell said that he anticipated no great difficulty in administering the amended law if the BUC is given the wholehearted cooperation of employers and workers.

Ever since the amended law was approved by the Ohio General Assembly early this summer, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has been reading new forms, procedures, rules and regulations. During the past month an intensive training program has been underway in the 68 BUC local offices located throughout Ohio, BUC Administrator Cornell said.

Probing Two Blazes Here Within Hour

Following two fires at the Loren Hains home, located at 1139 East Paint Street and owned by Ladonna Bellar on Tuesday evening, an investigation was called for by Fire Chief George Hall, and Deputy State Fire Marshal William Ichniowski has started the investigation.

Fire Chief Hall said the first fire was attributed to defective wiring, but the second fire was believed to have been started by kerosene which had been scattered about two rooms and which was burning furiously when the firemen reached the house for the second alarm.

Hall said that the first call was at 6:20 P. M., and the firemen returned to the City Building at 7:10, only to be called, again at 7:40 by a report that the same house was on fire.

It required considerable effort to extinguish the second blaze with the booster line.

Hall said that it was apparent that kerosene had been scattered about the two rooms, one of which contained a bed and other fixtures. Both rooms were badly charred and all fixtures ruined by the second blaze.

Drop in Mercury Puts End Here to Balm Weather

Winter temperatures broke a temporary outbreak of spring-like weather here over the holiday and caused residents to exchange their spring topcoats for winter overcoats.

The return of winter was perhaps a hint of things to come for the new year.

Freezing rain and sleet, with hazardous driving conditions, was forecast for the southeast portion of Ohio on Wednesday.

Rain should end early Wednesday night and the weather should become colder, the weatherman said.

Thursday the weather was predicted cloudy and cold, with snow or sleet likely by the afternoon or evening.

Maurice Caldwell Funeral Rites Read

Funeral services for Maurice Caldwell, Jr., who met death under his automobile Saturday morning, were held Tuesday at 2 P. M. at the Gerstner Funeral Home, and were conducted by the Rev. Arthur George.

Rev. George read the Scriptures, offered prayer, read a memoir and delivered the sermon.

The answers to everyday insurance problems * By Leonard Korn and Dana Hyer

QUESTION: In applying for a fire insurance policy on our home should we include the garage? We also have a small garden tool shed and would like to know whether it should be included.

ANSWER: In most cases ten percent of the face value of a dwelling fire insurance policy is applied to the garage. If a garage, tool shed or other outbuilding has a greater value than that amount it should be insured separately.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Arthur George sang the hymns, "If We Never Meet Again" and "Does Jesus Care?"

The services were largely attended, and the floral gifts were cared for by the pallbearers, who were: Charles Morris, George Morris, Jr., Henry Leslie, Thomas Larkin, Charles Paul and James Michael. Interment was made in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Richard Kelley and Cecil West folded the flag from the casket, and presented it to the widow.

Another Songfest To Be Held Friday

Plans were being made today to get back into the old routine at the monthly songfest scheduled for Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert, on the CCC Highway west of here.

This will be the 28th songfest at the Wipert home since the get-togethers were started in August of 1949. With few exceptions, they are held once a month.

The attendance has grown from "just a few" to an average of "more than 45," Mrs. Wipert said as she was getting ready for the first gathering of the new year.

Although the final decision has not been made, Mrs. Wipert said "we may not hold one in February... there has just been so much going on."

THE LAST TWO songfests, Mrs. Wipert said, have been patterned to the spirit of the holiday seasons—first Thanksgiving and then Christmas. Now, she added, "we'll try to get back into the old stride" Friday night. By that she said she meant that the song selections would be marked by variety and would include the time-tested hymns, spirituals and folk songs.

The singing is scheduled to start at 7:30 P. M. and continue until the light refreshments are served. The refreshments, usually coffee and doughnuts, are provided with the "small change" that is dropped into a bowl as a sort of free will offering.

Mrs. Wipert explained that the purpose of the refreshments is to "get the people to mix together and get better acquainted."

She said she and everyone else knows that the coffee and doughnuts are not necessary to satisfy any gnawing hunger among the singers, but she added, "it does help promote informal visiting."

Sausage Supper Set for Thursday At Country Club

One of the few real special Men's Nite suppers at the Country Club is coming up Thursday.

It's the annual "sausage supper" that was started seven years ago by the late Walter McCoy and carried on since his death three years ago by the group of hosts who served with him. It is considered as a sort of memorial tribute and tradition.

McCoy, one of the county's prominent hog producers, took great pride, not only in his purebred spotted Poland Chinas, but in his sausage as well. It was as proof of his sausage-making skill that he put on the first sausage supper back in 1945.

Against such a background, the committee that is carrying on has made it plain that the sausage it serves is always "the best we can find... usually especially made on the McCoy recipe."

The hosts for the coming Thursday night supper are Chuck Dutton, John Gerstner, Paul Pennington, Chuck Cummings, George Fitzgerald and Dr. Sam Sauer.

The Men's Nite suppers have been held twice a month on Thursdays at the Country Club for approximately 20 years. From a small beginning, they have grown until now the average attendance approaches 100 members of the club and their guests.

The hosts, a different sextet for each one, make all the arrangements and take over as the table waiters.

Look What's Coming

Homes will be made of plastics and will "simmer, not blaze up in uncontrollable flames."

Dr. Adams puts life expectancy in 2000 at 75 to 80 years, and spry years at that.

But he assures 1952 men that not everything will change, saying:

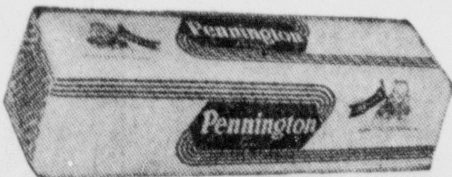

"They will still enjoy good, juicy old-fashioned steaks and some versions of today's sweeter girl probably always will be with us."

Obligations Received by Two Grangers

Charles M. Smith and Miss Betty Rowland received the first four obligations at a meeting of the Good Hope Grange Tuesday night at a meeting of the Grange in the Good Hope Grange Hall.

The first and second obligations were read by Lucie Eckle while the third and fourth obligations were read by Harry Rains.

Jane Ann Herdman was elected as the chaplain of the Good Hope Grange.

Deputy Harry Rains and Mrs. Chester Jones gave a report on the deputies' session of the Ohio Grange Convention, which was held in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Rains gave a report on the attendance at the convention.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS made that the installation of officers of Granges in Fayette County will be held Jan. 9 in Memorial Hall in Washington C. H.

Deputy Jones presented the Good Hope Grange with an award of merit certificate for the 1951 membership roll.

A quiz contest, in which the women were pitted against the men, was won by the men.

Women contestants included the following: Mrs. Lucie Eckle, Mrs. Charles Morrow, Mrs. Clarence Wallace and Betty Rowland. Men participants included the following: Charles Morrow, Charles M. Smith, Deputy Chester A. Jones and Grover Compton.

The program was closed with Brother Frank Grubbs reading his poem, "Be a Booster."

Refreshments were served by the Grange.
